Issue 62
Stronger Together: Global Strategies for Success in Logistics and Transport is the theme for the Chartered Institute of Logistics and Transport’s (CILT) International Convention this year. The convention took place on 13 – 16 September, at Jumeirah Creekside Hotel, Dubai, United Arab Emirates. The Hong Kong delegation was led by the President, Mr Sunny Ho, and International Vice President, Prof Becky Loo. Other Hong Kong representatives included Dr Dorothy Chan (Immediate Past President of CILT International), Mr Joseph Tsui, Ms Vicky Koo (Convenor of WiLAT HK), Miss Harriet Leung, and three young members Mr Stephen Chan (Regional Ambassador for Young Professionals), Mr Keno Cheung and Mr Kelvin Ng.

1. Dr Dorothy Chan was conferred with the Honorary Fellowship

Congratulations to Dr Dorothy Chan! Dr Chan began serving the CITHK as the Honorary Secretary from 1978 to 1982 and later took up the chairmanship in 1989-1990. In the past decade, she has been representing CILTHK serving the CILT International in various important positions - International Vice President (2004-2007), Chairperson of the International Membership and Education Committee (2004-2010). She was elected the International President (2013-2014) and has brought the Institute to a new level of achievements. Recently, she has been appointed as Global Advisor for WiLAT.
2. International Awards and Appointment

To acknowledge the distinguished service of the International Vice President, Mr Robin Dunlop was presented the Pegasus Award. Over the last 3 years, Mr Dunlop has been supporting the Young Professionals and assisting their development into a structured group with a regional leadership.

In the presence of the International family at the Convention, CILT China was presented the new Territorial Organisation certificate which in fact has been formally upgraded to Territory status on 1 January 2015. We were also pleased in welcoming CILT Ukraine for being a new member of the CILT family.

Congratulations to Miss Isabella Austin from CILT UK for winning the International Young Achiever of the Year. Isabella is the Client Account Manager at Collect+, UK. Mr Kelvin Ng, nominee from CILTHK, was among the runners up and received the award of Highly Recommended.

3. Learning and Sharing

Mr Paul Brooks stressed the Mission of the Institute is to “Create the right educational pathways and set the right development opportunities to be seen as the leading professional body globally by those within and outside our profession”.

He further elaborated the below framework of the CILT 5 Year Strategy:

- Internationally / Regionally
  - Identify the key outcomes we wish to achieve
  - Identify the key measures of success

- Establish ‘success view’ for local councils
- Manage any changes

The revised Membership Guidelines was introduced by Prof Becky Loo, IVP and Chairperson of the International Membership Standards Committee. It will be served as a useful and relevant reference for all TOs and IBs. Allowing flexibility, specific benchmarks are set out in the Guidelines to ensure that a consistently HIGH standard of professional membership is maintained. At the Membership Best Practices Session, CILTHK joined Australia, Ghana, Nigeria, North America and UK in sharing ideas and practices.

This year’s programme was enriched with four high-profile industry speakers to address on subjects linked into the theme of the Convention.

- Eng. Mahmood Al Bastaki, Chief Executive Officer, Dubai Trade
  - Topic: Stronger Together: Global Strategies for Success in Logistics and Transport

- Mr Mark Millar, Industry Expert, Writer, Presenter and Lecturer
  - Topic: Exploring how Regional Logistics Hubs Empower Global Supply Chains

- Professor Christopher Kissling, Academic, Consultant and Writer; and Dr John Webb, Head, School of Logistics and Maritime Studies, Bahrain Polytechnic
  - Topic: Shedding Light on Transport Network Performance

- Mr Jonathan James, Section Head Freight Policies, Freight Division Surface Transport Section, Abu Dhabi DoT
  - Topic: Bringing the Abu Dhabi Road Freight Industry into the Government Fold
In September 2015, I travelled to Dubai to join the CILT International Convention for the CILT International Young Achiever Award competition. This city really impressed me a lot with their slogan “Bigger and Better”. They have the tallest building in the world (Burj Khalifa Tower), the largest shopping mall in the world (Dubai Mall), the world’s largest choreographed fountain system (The Dubai Fountain)……

I arrived at Dubai a day before the convention started, which allowed me to have some time to explore this famous city. I went to the world’s biggest mall “Dubai Mall” and found out that the mall was much bigger than I thought as I really got lost in the mall! And as a member of the CILT, of course I would take the chance to experience the public transport system. I took the Dubai metro system and it did impress me with its modern design and convenience.

In the convention, although I only got the award of “Highly Commented” in the International Young Achiever Award competition, I had already learned a lot in the Convention especially in the YP conference which I could apply at my own company.

During the YP conference, all the YPs were assigned in different teams and worked together for an interesting project. It did provide me a valuable chance to know more about different young professionals from different countries. We came up with a lot of creative ideas within our discussion.

After the group discussion, we also had a chance to visit Emirates Training Center for their crew training. Emirates had invested a lot in their training facilities in order to maintain their high service standard, every staff member would need to go through an 8-week training before they could serve guests. It really showed me what is the important of training; they even built a room only for the door opening training! The things that I have learned in this visit really can be applied in my daily job. Like for training, I will review the training process in my department and add more practical and on-job trainings in order to let our new staff have more “real” experience.

To sum up, I have really learned a lot in this convention and it provided me a chance to have a much in-depth understanding of the operation of the CILT International. I am looking forward to joining more programmes held by CILT in the future!
Today, 7 cities (Shanghai, Hangzhou, Ningbo, Zhengzhou, Chongqing, Guangzhou and Shenzhen) have been selected by the China Government to be e-Commerce Cross-Border Trade Pilot Cities to implement “Import Cross Border Ecommerce”. Under the new policies, Chinese labels, import permit, customs duty and VAT are waived whereas customers are required to pay the Postal Tax only if transaction exceeds RMB50.

The speaker, Mr Paul Li, CMILT, President of Transland Shipping (1971) Group, introduced with the participants the policy background, objectives, scopes, challenges and opportunities at the seminar.

The China Certification & Inspection Group (CCIC) Food Safety Traceability Center, a state-owned enterprise, has developed a number of innovative solutions to cater for the development of food safety raised by the Chinese Authorities in recent years. By far the Food Safety Traceability System is an effective way to achieve significant enhancement in the reliability and efficiency of the supply chain. The guest speaker, Mr Jason Yuan, Director of China Inspection & Certification Group (CCIC) Food Safety Traceability Center, explained to us an alternative operation model in handling food trade in the Mainland and shared with us on the below agenda:

- Food Safety Condition in Mainland
- Establishment of Food Safety Traceability Systems – Policy and Market Needs
- Cooperation with the 3rd Party – Business Opportunities
- CCIC Food Safety Traceability System – Case Studies
- Benefits of CCIC Food Safety Traceability System
