

CILTHK LIVE Webinar: Good Distribution Practice of Pharmaceutical Products

Abstract

In a batch of vaccines recently provided to Hong Kong, defects were found and confirmed that this situation is related to vaccine packaging under transportation conditions which raised public concern.

To ensure the safety and quality of pharmaceuticals and vaccines, and ultimately the safety of consumers and patients, manufacturers, logistics service providers and freight forwarders need to understand and implement a reliable distribution system such as Good Distribution Practice (GDP) that meets WHO standards including cold storage and cold logistic before products are delivered to customers.
