

Hong Kong Maritime Week 2021

CILTHK Webinar: Emergency Pack for Cargo GA/Salvage Security Collection involving Large Container Vessels

The grounding of the “Ever Given”, an ultra large container ship, in the Suez Canal, has had immense effects on global supply chains, affecting numerous cargoes on their way to Europe. It leads to various issues, one of which being a long-standing principle unique to maritime transport since the ancient Greeks – “General Average”. The core principle of General Average is simple (like “AA” system in defraying costs of meals among a group of attendants as part of our Hong Kong culture) but its implementation can be much more complicated requiring high expertise, particularly when multi-bills of lading cargo interests are involved in the process. Swift communication and cooperation between all parties is the key to resolve the large GA/Salvage security collection issues in the aftermath of a major shipping incident.

This webinar aims at providing basics relating to the above from the perspective of cargo interests, and to set some role play discussing the practical issues/questions which cargo interests have been seen commonly encounter. It would be particularly appealed to shippers, consignees, freight forwarders, traders, insurance brokers and insurance companies etc. who may be interested in and wish to enrich their knowledge around this topic.

The Webinar includes:

- Basis and typical examples of General Average
- Roles of Average Adjusters
- Types of security documents commonly required
- Practical issues arising
- Tips for hassle-free cargo delivery

Speaker Profile

Mr. Peter Fei FAAA, ACII, AHKI Arb

General Manager | Charles Taylor Adjusting – Marine, HK Branch

Peter started his career at Charles Taylor Hong Kong in 2006 after obtaining his bachelor degree in the International Shipping and Transport Logistics at the Hong Kong Polytechnic University. He became an Associate of the Chartered Insurance Institute in 2011 and qualified as a Fellow of the Association of Average Adjusters in 2019. After spending more than 15 years with the company, Peter gained vast experience in handling most types of marine hull and loss of hire claims traded under Richards Hogg Lindley; managing multi-bills of lading General Average and Salvage security collections; handling yacht, port & terminal, cargo claims adjusting on behalf of property insurers and seeking recoveries against liable parties.

Apart from supporting as regular lecturers/speakers for various groups of client seminars/workshops organised either locally or in the Greater China region, Peter also actively participates and attends as speaker for events organised by some profound marine institutes and/or international associations and served on the Executive Committee of the Marine Insurance Club in HK during 2019-2021.

Mr. William Lai FAAA

Assistant General Manager | Charles Taylor Adjusting – Marine, HK Branch

William began his career in the maritime industry in 2005 and has developed a great deal of valuable experience in a range of maritime practices including liner shipping agency, ship broking, marine insurance broking (underwriting and claims handling), and average adjusting before joining Charles Taylor. William had been elected as a Fellow of the Association in May 2019.

He is currently the Executive Committee Member of the Marine Insurance Club in HK as well as the Hong Kong Logistics Management Staff Association.
