

Disruption to Supply Chains is inherent in the system, but the incidence triggered by the Covid-19 pandemic in 2020 followed by the Russo-Ukrainian War in 2022 has been as devastating as it is unprecedented. And the resulting operational challenges to transport and logistics practitioners have been massive and lasting. The situation is relentlessly exacerbated by the ongoing Climate Change. How have the stakeholders been responding to the challenges? Who have been the winners and losers? How sustainable are the resilient scenarios going forward? These are the questions to be addressed at the luncheon seminar with Mr. Eric Wong as speaker.
