CILT International New Campaign

Sustainability and the Green Agenda

Climate change is a clear and present danger to our planet, and in response we as professionals must change the way we operate. In line with International President Dato' Radzak Malek's strategy for the next 100 years of CILT, a new campaign building upon the success of the 'I am CILT' has been launched engaging communications about sustainability and green technology.

The campaign was kicked off with the first 'Green Series' international webinars
Smart and Sustainable Mobility:
delivering Low Carbon Places on 21 April
(<https://youtu.be/fylhVjdl81s>)

Other events included:

- Green Series in Conversation with : Paul Le Blond on 5 May (<https://youtu.be/WyqoTbn3gt8>)
- Global Environmental Crisis: Future Challenges for the Transport and Logistics Profession on 26 May (<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=FeQktv1q5g>)

In the coming months, discussions and sharing on this vital theme will be continued in bulletins, webinars and social media content. If members would like to contribute by sharing your thoughts, ideas and opinions in the form of articles, papers, or podcasts and tell us how our industry can respond to the great challenge we all face, please send your submissions via CILT Hong Kong at info@cilt.org.hk.

As promotion on the social media targets the general public as a whole, the information disseminated shall be all-inclusive and generic. On the other hand, this Newsletter is ready to cater for the needs of the members and practitioners in the industry for more professional knowledge and information. We are going to provide updates on more related activities as well as in-depth sharing, introduction and discussion related to sustainability and green technology.

We must continue to look forward. We must keep innovating and developing for the future.

Green Technology & Sustainability Bulletin 2021

(<https://mailchi.mp/ciltinternational/cilt-covid-19-bulletin-4881653>)

The CILT Green Technology and Sustainability Bulletin in support of International President Dato' Radzak Malek's Green campaign has now been published.

The bulletin contains more than 40 articles, papers and recordings, with contributions from members in 20 different CILT countries examining green technology and sustainability issues in relation to the transport and logistics sector. The Bulletin covers a diverse range of industry topics from the greening of bus fleets in Australia to green supply chain management of the sugar industries in Sri Lanka; from empowering green healthcare supply chain practices in Malaysia to nurturing sustainable practices in logistics and transport organisations in Zimbabwe.

In which including two contributions from Hong Kong from Dr Venus Lun, Immediate Past President.

- Green Shipping Management
- Heat Pumps for Sustainable Heating and Cooling

Please share this bulletin with your friends, colleagues and associates.

Joint Webinar: Road Safety and Road Safety Audit: a HK/UK Perspective, 24 February 2021

With effect from 1 April 2019, the Transport Department has required works departments to carry out Road Safety Audit (RSA) aligned with feasibility design, detailed design and post implementation stages of a project, with a view to enhancing road safety performance. CILTHK joined the Chartered Institution of Highways and Transportation Hong Kong Region (CIHT Hong Kong Region) organised this webinar aiming to share and compare the practice of Road Safety/Road Safety Audits issues and practice in Hong Kong and the United Kingdom. In the webinar, Mr John Dooley, Chartered Professional and Projects Director of Mott MacDonald, brought the participants to review recently published road collision casualty statistics, emerging trends in transport and their implications for road safety engineers and auditors. A review of current road safety audit practice and design standards were also incorporated.

From the left to the right, the speaker, Mr John Dooley; Mr Peter Mok, CMILT, PAC member of CILTHK and Dr Gordon Leung, Chairman of CIHT Hong Kong

Webinar Series: 5G Applications for the Logistics and Transport Industry 3 March, 26 March & 8 April 2021

The fifth generation of wireless technology – 5G – represents the changing face of connectivity, 5G is expected to create a new era bringing a new dimension for the logistics and transport industry. With an objective to broaden the knowledge of CILTHK members and audience on the 5G technology, a webinar series with the theme of ‘5G Applications for the Logistics and Transport Industry (網絡研討會系列: 5G在物流及運輸領域的應用)’ connected participants with service providers with a view to devising 5G solutions for the industry. Furthermore, the webinars introduced the Subsidy Scheme for Encouraging Early Deployment of 5G which was launched by the Office of the Communications Authority (OFCA) under the second round of the Anti-epidemic Fund.

A total of 3 online sessions were arranged in the first quarter of 2021 and over 400 professionals and practitioners in the logistics and transport industry had attended. Speakers from 5G service providers and relevant Government agencies and the logistics and transport industry were invited to share their expertise and insight on the potential application of 5G technology for the logistics and transport industry.

CILTHK would like to express our gratitude to the unfailing support of the Office of the Communications Authority (OFCA), the six distinguished guest speakers and the eight supporting organisations. The event would not be successful without their firm supports.

- The Chamber of Hong Kong Logistics Industry
- FHKL – Transport & Logistics Services Council
- HKIE – Logistics & Transportation Division
- Hongkong Association of Freight Forwarding & Logistics
- Hong Kong Logistics Association
- Hong Kong Sea Transport & Logistics Association

Webinar Series 2020-2021: Smart Cities, Smart Mobility Session III, Digital Platform Onboard for Bus Operations, 11 Mar 2021

New World First Bus and Citybus have been sparing no effort to enhance fleet management, bus safety and passengers' travelling experience with innovative technologies. Mr Newton Ng, CMILT, Head of Commercial of New World First Bus Services Ltd. & Citybus Ltd., explained to the participants how automation in operations has been putting into practice with synchronisation of various devices onboard, including the fully integrated Fleet Management System, Octopus device and Dynamic Information Panel; and how new applications are in place to help restrict driving speed, monitor driving behaviour and even count the number of passengers.

The companies endeavour to facilitate the development of Smart City in Hong Kong, Newton also shared the vision of the two companies of being the first local bus operators agreed to open up real-time bus arrival data with the government for free public use, as well as the introduction of a new electronic payment system in January 2021. The webinar gave rise to a lively and fruitful discussion and the participants found it very informative and interesting.

Department of
LOGISTICS & MARITIME STUDIES
物流及航運學系

The Department of Logistics and Maritime Studies (LMS) at The Hong Kong Polytechnic University (PolyU) aims to fulfil the educational and manpower needs of the private and public sectors in Hong Kong, the Chinese mainland and the region by providing high-quality, comprehensive and internationally recognised academic programmes.

Bachelor of Business Administration (Honours) in International Shipping and Transport Logistics (BBA-ISTL)

(<https://lms.polyu.edu.hk/study/ug/istl/>)

[Full Exemption for CILTHK PQE]

As the sole provider of maritime education at the tertiary level in Hong Kong, LMS offers BBA-ISTL programme to enable students to acquire wide knowledge of maritime transport and logistics within a general broad framework of international transport and trade by providing a well-rounded business education, along with the opportunity to specialise in international shipping and logistics management.

"In our studies in BBA-ISTL, we were prepared for a wide range of career prospects, not limited to shipping, and with an array of subjects on offer, including chartering, maritime law, and transport economics, we were encouraged to think critically, become proficient in all branches of the industry to better plan our professional career pathways under the care of our dedicated and compassionate professors and lecturers.

Other than the invaluable academic experiences, the internship programme ensures that we leave PolyU well prepared for the workforce by obtaining industry-ready skills and experiences, most desired by potential employers. My experience at PolyU has shaped me into becoming independent with full confidence in entering the workforce with not only essential theoretical knowledge and practical competencies, but also a greater sense of empowerment; all thanks to this excellent and holistic approach by PolyU." Shareen Choudhary MOHAMMAD

Bachelor of Business Administration (Honours) in Supply Chain Management and Analytics (BBA-SCMA)

(Former programme title: Bachelor of Business Administration (Honours) in Global Supply Chain Management)

(<https://lms.polyu.edu.hk/study/ug/scma/>)

[Full Exemption for CILTHK PQE]

Supply Chain Management (SCM) focuses on how firms optimise resources in a logistics network to deliver value to end customers. As Hong Kong is a logistics and trading centre of global importance, SCM is of particular relevance to many businesses and industries. With the advancement of technological innovation and business analytics, the integration of management knowledge and analytical skills becomes essential for supply chain managers to make decisions.

"The mix of supply chain and business management is distinctive in Hong Kong. The specialised SCM subjects gave me a deep dive in the supply chain operations and prospect. I found a real dedication to the pursuit of knowledge at PolyU, not only in the syllabus but also in the richness of talks, workshops and events. The various kinds of cooperation and networks with professional intuitions have provided me with great opportunities to recognise how the industry is. The exposures are the solid foundation to understand the business environment quickly and to identify the room for improvement. I appreciate the integration of knowledge, experience and talent in this programme." LI Pui Man

Bachelor of Business Administration (Honours) in Aviation Management and Logistics (BBA-AML)

(<https://lms.polyu.edu.hk/study/ug/aml/>)

[Full Exemption for CILTHK PQE]

BBA-AML is a 2-year full-time government-funded top-up degree programme. The programme covers major skills and knowledge that are crucial for management professionals working in the aviation industry. It takes advantage of Hong Kong's position as a leading aviation hub which provides plenty of opportunity for close interaction and networking between industry experts and programme participants.

"As a student of the BBA (Hons) in Aviation Management and Logistics which was launched in 2017, I am glad to have the opportunity to prepare myself for a career in the aviation industry. The programme provides seminars, internship, career sharing and site visits for students to get familiar with the industry. During my internship, I travelled to Shanghai to explore overseas working culture at a renowned aircraft manufacturing company. It was an amazing experience in my study life.

Apart from the knowledge and latest information about the market shared by our professors, there were many guest speakers from the industry who let us know about their experiences and the latest trends in the aviation industry. This provided an insight in how the industry works, knocking down the first door and leading us into the real world working environment. PolyU has a long upstanding recognition in the quality of transport and logistics tertiary education. This new programme has continued to realise, assisted me to land onto a career for a leading international unmanned aerial vehicle company." LIU Oscar Chun Sing

WiLAT China Chat, 14 April 2021

WiLAT Hong Kong supported WiLAT China to launch an initiative whereby Chinese speaking WiLAT members contribute recorded messages of 2-3 minutes each for posting at an official WeChat public account (微信公眾號：蔚木兰／搜索：話·木兰). These recordings, with themes around their work and daily lives, will be aired a few times a week starting from 6 May to arouse interest and promote awareness of women's status and support needs in our industry. Global Vice Chairperson East Asia Carmen, WiLAT Hong Kong Chairperson Vicky, have shared recordings on the platform.

Vaccine Logistics Webinar, 15 April 2021

COVID-19 vaccines are now available, but the logistics of distributing the vaccines have become critical to ensuring quality during the journey and minimising wastage as they all come with a relatively short expiry date. Deputy WiLAT Global Chairperson Vicky Koo moderated the session with favourable response.

Mr Niki Frank, CEO of DHL Global Forwarding South Asia; and Ms Kelly Mok, Management Consultant specialising in strategy & analytics with Accenture based out of New York City shared their insights with us.
